New glimpse at Joan in store for play-goers

A new approach to the career of Joan of Arc is promised at BYU Theater goes in February.

As an historical figure who is elevated to a place in history through the story of the martyr of Rouen will be presented in the Smith Auditorium, Feb. 11-12, it was announced by Dr. Harold I. Hansen, chairman of the Dramatic Arts Dept.

The story, according to Dr. Hansen, approaches Joan as an historical figure who is elevated to a place in history through the story of the martyr of Rouen will be presented in the Smith Auditorium, Feb. 11-12, it was announced by Dr. Harold I. Hansen, chairman of the Dramatic Arts Dept.

"THERE HAVE BEEN several ways of telling the story," Dr. Hansen said. "One follows the usual pattern of the simple country girl who is led by ethereal voices to lead her country to freedom. The other, used by Anouilh and Miss Hellman, is to approach the subject from the standpoint of Joan herself; what she may have thought, and how she felt."

He mentioned another way the play is different. There is no scenery in the usual sense, except in the last scene, where the Dauphin, the young king for whom Joan fought, is coronated. Only elevations and platforms are used to depict the action. This allows the action complete freedom to move either backward or forward.

THE PLAY actually opens with Joan's trial for heresy. As the plot unfolds a series of flashbacks relate the story of her visions. She retells the story of finding the Dauphin and winning victory over the English invaders.

Heading the cast of 15 men and five women is Carol Lynn Wright of Provo as Joan. Her father and mother are portrayed by Russell Jensen, Loganale, Nev., and Nancy Bowen, McGill, Nev. Her brother is played by Steve Southwick of Northridge, Calif. Peter Carkulis of Provo plays the Dauphin, King Charles.

OTHERS IN THE CAST are Jim Pinney, Whitefish, Mont.; David Larsen, Hereford, Texas; Tommy Stokoe, Ayia, Samoa; John Robertson, Cody, Wyo.; Elaine Quamstrom, Leoti, Calif.; Sandy Slumway, Provo; Corrine Pearce, Los Angeles; Jean Sen, Los Angeles;

Grant Harrison, Cedar City; Tony Felix, Strathmore, Calif.; Clint Standor, Blackfoot, Idaho; Terry Hansen, Portland, Ore.; Christopher Lowe, San Diego, Calif.; Vernon Jensen, Ilwaco, N. Y.; Linda Anderson, Provo; Janet Hoff- heinz, Beaver; and Karen Keesler, Springfield, Ill.

Tickets may be obtained at the Smith Bldg. a week before performances with an activity card. Admission to the public is $1.

BYU professor to present paper at religious meet

Dr. Glenn M. Vernon, associate professor of sociology at BYU, will read a paper Saturday at the western regional meeting of the Religious Research Association at Claremont, Calif.

"The Measurement of Religious Self-Conceptions" is the subject of Dr. Vernon's study. It concerns research he has done in Utah, Michigan, Canada, and Washington.

DR. VERNON received the B.S. and M.S. degrees at BYU and the Ph.D. degree in 1953 at Washington State University. He has taught at Central Michigan University, Auburn University, Washington State University, and McMaster University, Hamilton, Ont., Canada. He joined the BYU faculty in 1959.

He is author of two texts which are used widely in college classes, "Introductory Sociology" and "Sociology of Religion," and has contributed extensively to professional journals.

Well known in national social science organizations, he is a member of the American Sociological Association, Pacific Sociological Association, Religious Research Association, Society for the Scientific Study of Religion, Utah Academy of Sciences, Arts and Letters, National Council and Utah Council on Family Relations, and Sigma Xi, honorary science society.

World news flashes . . . Lid clamped on Cuba

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A total U. S. embargo on imports from Cuba went into effect at 12:01 a.m. EST today.

The embargo, ordered by President Kennedy last Saturday, will deny Cuba about $35 million a year in foreign exchange earnings from such exports as tobacco, seafood, fruits and vegetables.

The White House has said the loss of income would "reduce the capacity of the Castro regime, intimately linked with the Sino-Soviet Bloc, to engage in acts of aggression, subversion or other activities" against the American Republics.

For humanitarian reasons, Kennedy says the United States would permit continued shipments to Cuba of food and medicines, the only exports allowed to go to that country.

The new embargo stemmed from action taken at the Punta Del Este Conference where the American Republics voted to isolate Cuba and to consider further trade restrictions against Castro.

Army admits goof

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Army has announced that nearly 1,000 reservists were called to active duty by mistake last fall and are being released from the service.

It said yesterday that 336 of the reservists already have been released. The Army did not identify the men, states, or units involved in the mixup. The statement said the mistake was due to:

Symphony is set for Monday

Works by Tchaikovsky, Weber, Copland and Gould will be featured in the 14th Symphony Orchestra concert, Monday at BYU.

The concert will begin at 8:15 p.m. in the Smith Fieldhouse. It will be the eighth program in the 1981-82 BYU-Community Concert Series.

Under the baton of Maurice Abravanel, who has conducted orchestras in New York, Paris and Berlin, the symphony will begin the concert with "Overture to Oberon" by Weber. Next will be Tchaikovsky's "Symphony No. 6 in B Minor (Pathétique)." "After the intermission the orchestra will play "Our Town Suite" and "A Lincoln Portrait" by Copland. John Nicolayson will narrate the "Lincoln Portrait."

The symphony will conclude the program with Gould's "American Suite."

Mr. Abravanel, who has conducted the Utah Symphony Orchestra for more than 15 years, was born in Solonka, Greece, in 1903. He has studied and worked in Switzerland, Germany, France, Australia, New York, Chicago and Salt Lake City.

The Utah Symphony has recorded extensively. The symphony has encouraged Utah composers by programming their works.

Orientation tests

Freshmen and sophomores entering BYU for the first time are required to take orientation tests which are scheduled to be given Saturday at 8 a.m. in 144 Knight Hall.

The tests will require six to seven hours, according to the Counseling Service.

Romney presides at AM for perhaps the last time

DETROIT (UPI)—George Romney presides today for perhaps the last time over the annual stockholders meeting of American Motors Corp.

The meeting, in AMC's main offices here was expected to draw a record number of more than 300 shareholders.

The AMC president and board chairman will announce Saturday whether he will become a Republican candidate for governor of Michigan. If Romney does make the race, as expected, he will take a leave of absence from the corporation.

30 dead in mine disaster

SAARBRUCKEN, GERMANY (UPI)—An explosion and fire trapped an estimated 450 coal miners below ground near here today. The U.S. Army rushed assistance to help local rescue efforts.

Mine officials said 30 men were killed. Seventy others were rescued, some "seriously," but the fate of the remainder was unknown.

The officials said a fire flashed through the main shaft of the nearby 2 1/2 mile-long Laisner coal mine immediately after the blast, but was soon snuffed out.

All senators

There will be a senator in 1991, said Sen. Frank Lautenberg, every day during spring semester from 3 to 5 p.m., according to House, Senate presidents are urged to use this opportunity to express their views on campus problems issues, Hoopes said.

Nat HemA

by Al E. By

In my strolls about campus I am constantly faced with the comments of well-informed students about the plight of student government. One comment heard all too constantly concerns the amount of freedom that student government is so generously given by our "dominating" administration.

A second area of comment concerns the apparent uselessness of the Senate and the rest of student government. Should we as a studentbody have a government? Some will answer yes, others no, but the vast majority of our students will not answer.

They apparently are not aware enough to concern themselves with the purpose and functions of a government or they are groping in an apathy that stifles their very concern about what happens to them.

FOR INSTANCE, during the recent controversy over the senate, there has not been one letter to the editor expressing any feelings of the studentbody on the matter, one way or the other.

The phone calls to individual senators could probably be counted on one hand. WE AS A CHURCH believe that the principles of the Constitution were inspired of God. We as a people, a nation, believe that the principles of democracy are the best way of life. But, I begin to doubt that anyone believes anything when I see the amount of complacency that exists among us.

Let's look at what the student government does for the studentbody. Each year the studentbody collects through the student fees approximately $120,000, to finance the activities of the students. Through these funds the students are able to have dances, assemblies, a newspaper, a yearbook, intramural sports, and a marching band to mention only a few benefits. So what? If the students cannot have a say in what is happening to them and their money, why should their money be spent?

CAN YOU IMAGINE a studentbody with no activities? Or worse yet a studentbody in which the administration sponsors and plans the activities for it, just like it was a baby unable to act for itself? We are almost to that point now.

Democracy—is this an abstract term that we have to go to the dictionary to define when we begin to talk about it? Where are the people that the government is supposed to represent? Where are their interests?

How can a student have the audacity to speak out against the amount of "domination" that the administration is exercising over their government? Until student government can show that it can handle its problems with maturity and sound judgment, I cannot see how the administration can possibly extend more freedoms to it.

THERE SEEMS to be a few cardinal rules the members of the studentbody practice which keep the government from reaching a point where it can be trusted by the administration.

These rules are:

1) DO NOT SUPPORT student government in any way. If you do you may give people the impression that you are for it.

2) DO NOT EXPRESS your opinions concerning how it is presently being run or how it might be improved. This might give someone something to work on.

3) TEAR DOWN everything that student government does. This way you will be expressing your maturity and willingness to help by contributing to the confusion.

4) AVOID the OFFICERS of student government. They might be seeking help on something and you do not want to get involved with your community life.

5) ENCOURAGE THOSE who are stupid enough to laugh at the blunders of student government. This way you will definitely make a very helpful and worthy contribution to the cause.

A studentbody without a government of the students, by the students and for the students, is like a nation without a government, a world without a purpose, a religion without a god.

And a student government without a studentbody that is interested is even worse. What about you? Do you have the courage to have your feelings known, or are you one who is contributing to the whole mess by your insolent silence?

Meet Ramblers...

Freshmen seek ninth victory

A pair of 100-plus scores over the weekend pushed Brigham Young University's freshman basketball record to the 8-0 mark for the season.

Saturday night the Kittens will try to extend their win streak to nine straight in a second meeting with Utah State's Ramblers.

THE TWO freshman groups will play a preliminary game to the USU-BYU varsity contest beginning with a 6 p.m. tipoff to the George Albert Smith Fieldhouse.

Coach Pete Witbeck used his entire bench last week to trounce Hill Air Force Base, 116-59. College of Southern Utah, trailing by only three points at the half, also fell, 102-65, as the Kittens picked up their eighth victory.

IN THE WIN over CSU, Witbeck used 12 players. The regulars, led by forward Bob Quinney, put the game on ice early in the second half. Quinney led all scorers with 26 points.

Cats tackle Utah State Saturday

BYU's cagers, having experienced a great leap forward in the season standings, will be confronted with another of the "Big Five" front runners, Utah State, Saturday night in Provo.

IS WHAT MUST surely be one of the most profitable weekends of the season, the Cougars picked up three victories—one win each over league opponents Denver and New Mexico, plus a forfeit by San Jose State in a game played earlier in the year.

Uncorking their finest offensive play of the season, the Wattsmen posted the Denver Pioneers, 36-73. That was a new lineup, one consisting of seniors Gene Kunz and Bob Wilson on the guard line and sophomore Bob Blumenthal at one forward position. The trio teamed with center Bruce Burton and forward Jim Quinlan.

THE NEW starters scored all but four of the Cougars' 98 points. Burton and Blumenthal set the pace with a total of 44 points and 46 rebounds between them.

Using the same combination the following night, the Cougars trailed 33-41 at halftime against New Mexico. It wasn't until Watts inserted his first unit of regulars (headed by forward Bob Skousen and guard Ron Stenke) that BYU was able to roar from behind and barely edge New Mexico, 76-74.

SKOUSEN and Stenke tallied 18 and 16 points respectively, with the winning basket coming off a 30-foot jump shot by Stenke with four seconds remaining in the game. At one point in the second half the Mountain Cats had trailed by 16 points.

The other addition to the win column, the forfeit by San Jose State, was entirely unexpected. University officials were notified over the weekend that the Spartans were forfeiting the game because they had used an ineligible player in San Jose's 69-54 win over BYU earlier in the season.

AS A RESULT, the Cougars' season record has jumped from a 6-11 the week before to the 9-10 record now listed in the books. It was a mighty step forward, one that may enable BYU to finish with a winning season.

Watts and the Cougars can now turn their attention to the forthcoming game with Utah State.

The Cats were hardly in the game at Logan two weeks ago when they were drubbed 69-88. It was one of the Y's poorest showings of the season.

SATURDAY game in Provo could be a different story, although the record definitely favors the visitors.

Statistically, the Cougars do not look very impressive. Only two players, Skousen and Burton, have scoring averages in double figures. Skousen was held scoreless for the first time in his career in the Denver game. But he is averaging 15.9 points a game, while Burton has a 12.6 average.

Burton came within one rebound of matching the school rebounding record held by John Benson. Burton claimed 25 rebounds in the Denver game, besides collecting 28 points.
